CORAM: DR. D.Y. CHANDRACHUD, J.

19th November, 2007.

P.C. :

The dispute in the present case is between the members of the same family. The Petitioner who is the original Plaintiff is the sister of the First and Second Respondents. The grievance in the contempt proceedings is that the First and Second Respondents had in breach of an order of injunction passed by this Court on 4th July, 2003 alienated two rooms in the suit property. At the hearing of the Contempt Petition, the First and Second Respondents have remained present in person to argue their case. On the suggestion of the Court, the parties have discussed the matter with a view to resolve the main dispute in the Suit. Accordingly Consent Terms have been taken on record in the suit in pursuance whereof the entire dispute between the parties have been resolved. In that view of the matter and having regard to the close relationship between the parties, it is neither appropriate nor proper for this Court to take any further steps in the exercise of its contempt jurisdiction. The Contempt Petition is accordingly disposed of.
